

POSSES SEEKING 4 BANK DESPERADOES SHOOT 2 BY ERROR

Restaurant Keeper and Former Sheriff Are Badly Wounded.

SHOTS IN DARKNESS DUE TO BOY'S TALE

Lad Reported That "Bank
Bandits" Had Tried to Hold
Him Up in Road.

Norton, Kan., May 27 (A.P.).—Mistaken for members of the Lamar, Colo., bank robber gang, L. L. Robinson, 34, restaurant man of Hill City, Kan., and Carl T. Peterson, farmer and former sheriff, were shot and seriously wounded by sheriff's officers here last night. Both are in a hospital here.

The officers who did the shooting
had been told by a farmer boy that
"the bank robbers tried to hold me up."

Sheriff W. T. Jones, and three deputies drove at once to the spot where the boy said he saw the robbers. Robinson and Peterson, who happened to be on the highway when the officers arrived, were not recognized in the darkness and the men in the sheriff's car started shooting.

Robinson received a shotgun charge
in the spine and Peterson was shot in the arm with a charge of buckshot.

False Clue Is Followed.
Scott City, Kan., May 27 (A.P.).—A report that the Lamar, Colo., bank robbers, the object of a great Western man-hunt, were cornered in a cabin near Healy, Kan., this afternoon sent scores of armed men hurrying to the spot
from the surrounding towns. Investigation proved the information to be erroneous.

The false information regarding the location of the robber gang was said to have been circulated by a woman who saw three men drive up to a cabin 2
miles north and 1 mile west of here.
They entered the cabin and when a guard had been placed about the place,
officers found they were hunters.

Meanwhile scores of automobiles
which had started from points as distant as Dighton and Scott City arrived at the scene. Automobiles filled with armed men continued to arrive until evening.

May Be on East Coast.
Lamar, Colo., May 27 (A.P.).—Search for the four bandits who robbed the Lamar First National Bank last Wednesday and killed the president, cashier
and a physician and kidnapped a teller
continued today in the "bad lands"
region and bordering territory in Kansas, Colorado and Oklahoma with no definite clue as to the whereabouts of the quartet.

It was reported here late last night
that ten witnesses to the robbery had identified a photograph of Charles Chester Clinton, said to be a former convict from Oklahoma, as one of the bandits. Oklahoma authorities were checking prison records tonight for a possible clue in this connection.

A. N. Parrish, 77, president of the bank, and his son, John Parrish,
cashier, were killed in the holdup. Dr.
W. W. Winesinger, of Dighton, Kan., was called from his home Wednesday night, presumably to treat the wounds
of one of the four bandits who was shot in a battle with bank officials
and his body was found near Oakley, Kan., where his motor car had been driven over an embankment. E. A.
Kessinger, assistant cashier of the bank, who was abducted by the band-
its and used as a shield from bullets
in their flight from Lamar, still is missing.

Fingerprints on a Note.
Fingerprints on a note found near the body of the dead physician were photographed and will be used in an attempt to identify the killers.

Hope that the abducted assistant cashier would be found alive had virtually been abandoned tonight.

The loot obtained in the robbery was approximately $20,000. Rewards for the capture of the bandits tonight
totalled more than half that sum.

Peace officers here believe the robbers have escaped the net maintained
by posses, individuals and airplane
searchers since the robbery, and expect the men to be found in some Eastern or Pacific Coast city.

Model Tractor Plane In Air for 4 Minutes

Chicago, May 27 (A.P.).—A world's record for duration flight of an indoor tractor model airplane was made today
by a plane flown by Carl V. Carlson, 15 years old, in a model airplane tournament. Young Carlson's entry remained in the air 4 minutes 19 seconds, propelled only by its rubber band motor.
More than 200 boys competed.

British Fliers Bomb Brigand Gang in Iraq

Basra, Iraq, May 27 (A.P.).—British
air force planes, assisting the police,
bombed and killed a number of brig-
ands who had ignored a government warning to disperse. The gang, under leadership of Ghadban Khalun, had been operating in central Iraq. His sword was found, and it is believed he was killed.

COUPLE DRAG DYING MAN AUTO HIT TO CURB, FLEE

Driver of Their Car Speeds
Away as He Sees Girl
and Youth Escape.

PETER SNYDER IS VICTIM

Crushed under the wheels of a sport
roadster in front of 1234 Thirty-fourth street northwest last night, Peter Synder, 70 years old, 1309 Thirty-fourth street northwest, was dragged to the side of the street by a well-dressed young man and girl who stepped from the machine, and who, after seeing how badly Snyder had been injured, fled.

The driver of the automobile, deserted
by his companions, threw the machine
into gear and sped away leaving his victim to die.

Snyder died fifteen minutes after the accident in Georgetown Hospital. His skull had been fractured. Police learned that Snyder was blind in one eye and probably did not see the automobile
that struck him.

According to witnesses, the roadster
was occupied by a party of young people and was proceeding south on Thirty-
fourth street at a normal rate of speed.
When Snyder, walking toward his home, stepped in front of it. He was hurled to the ground and dragged almost 15 feet
before the driver brought the machine
to a stop.

P. E. Cady, who witnessed the accident from the window of his apartment
at 1234 Thirty-fourth street, said that the girl and man jumped from the automobile as soon as it stopped and pulled Snyder from under the front wheels. Then they dragged him to the curbstone.

The girl, who appeared to be about 19
years old, Cady said, screamed and ran toward the car.

Merchant and Thief Both Killed in Duel

Dallas, Tex., May 27 (A.P.).—Ronald
L. Combs, 32, superintendent of Dallas
Piggly Wiggly Stores, and an unidentified robber were shot to death last night in a pistol duel during an attempt to hold up one of the company's stores here.

CONGRESS MEMBER IN AUTO COLLISION

Johnson, of Texas, and Party
Cut and Bruised When Car Hits Motorcycle.

Representative Luther A. Johnson, of Texas; his wife, his 17-year-old daughter, Turner Read Luther, and a niece, Miss Totsy Berry, of Mexia, Tex., were cut and bruised about 6 o'clock last night when the automobile in which they were riding was in collision with a motorcycle on which two negroes were riding in Frederick, Md.

The congressional party was on its way to Washington from Harper's Ferry Va. The two negroes were thrown over the top of the auto and were cut
and bruised when thrown to the street.
The collision broke the windows in the automobile, showering its occupants
with glass. Two Washington motorists, Cassin Gladman and his brother Percy,
of 1332 Fairmont street northwest, were passing at the time and extricated members of the Johnson party and took them to a police court for a preliminary hearing. The case will be heard Thursday morning in the Frederick police court.

Two Spectators Killed By Falling Airplane

(Special Cable Dispatch.)
Paris, May 27.—Two spectators were killed and five seriously hurt when an airplane fell into the crowd watching
an air fête given by the French Association of Civil Pilots at the Orly Airport near Paris. The plane was one of a squadron which had been aloft with parachute performers. The squadron was landing when the pilot of one of the leading planes lost control and sideslipped into the crowd.

CITY PAYS TRIBUTE TO MEN WHO DIED IN WARS OF NATION

Thousands Attend Rites
at Many Cemeteries, Braving Rain.

FLOWERS DROPPED AT RIVER SERVICES

Pigeons Turned Loose by Boy Scouts at Memorial to Hero Aviators.

Flowers banked the graves of soldier dead in more than a score of cemeteries yesterday, as Washington turned aside to pay tribute to its heroes of all wars. The gesture was preliminary to Wednesday's celebration of Memorial Day.

Overcast skies and a slow rain lasting nearly all day failed to halt the open air services held by patriotic groups throughout the city. Separate rites had been arranged for patriots who lost their lives on land, on sea and in the air.

At St. Elizabeths Hospital, members of the District Department of the United Spanish War Veterans, gathered in Hitchcock Hall, heard Assistant Secretary of War Charles Burton Robbins deliver an address commemorative of soldiers, sailors and marines buried in St. Elizabeths Cemetery.

Earlier in the day, Gen. Nelson A.
Miles Camp, led by Commander George V. McAtee, decorated graves in the cemetery, and conducted brief memorial services on the grounds. A salute was fired by a detachment of United States Marines, and taps were sounded
by Patrick McMahon.

Dr. William A. White, superintendent of the hospital, welcomed the department members to the grounds at the afternoon exercises, and addresses were made by Department Commander Albert
Michael and Senior Vice Department
Commander James G. Yaden. Numbers were played by the Marine Band Orchestra.

Flowers Strwn on River.
Leaving the navy yard wharf at 10:30
yesterday morning, the U. S. S. Porpoise, with District auxiliaries of the United Spanish War Veterans aboard, steamed down the Potomac to Mount Vernon. During the return trip, ladies of the auxiliaries, veterans and guests
strewn the river with flowers in memory of soldiers, sailors and marines who have lost their lives at sea.

Short commemorative exercises were held aboard the boat, with addresses
made by Department Commander Michael and Brig. Gen. John J. Garrity, national commander, and Representative Franklin Menges, of Pennsylvania. There were numbers by the Navy Band Orchestra and vocal solos by Jeanette McCahey and Mrs. Elvina Rowe. Invocation was by Department Chaplain Eugene Doleman.

Services in memory of airmen who have died in service of their country
were conducted at the Francis Scott Key Bridge, under the auspices of the National Woman's Relief Corps. Capt.
Charles L. Dickens, chaplain, United States Navy, delivered the principal address and the invocation was by the Rev. George G. Culbertson.

As the exercises progressed, Lieut.
Pier Skance and Lieut. Harvey R.
Bowers let fall poppies from planes of the Army and Navy, flying overhead.
Pigeons were released from the bridge
by a detachment of Boy Scouts. There was ensemble singing, led by Miss Jeanette Baker.

Jewish Welfare Rites.

Judge Robert E. Mattingly, of the Municipal Court, paid tribute to Jewish soldiers of all wars, at exercises conducted at the Francis Scott Key Bridge.

LINDBERGH'S DOUBLE FOOLS FIELD CROWD

Unidentified Flier Returns
Lone Eagle's Plane After Latter's Flight.

Special to The Washington Post.
New York, May 27.—Col. Charles A.
Lindbergh, who last week became chairman of the advisory committee of the Transcontinental Air Transport to assist in working out the aerial transportation problems of a new air and rail system, worked out a personal traffic problem today with neatness and dispatch.

The famous flier took off from Curties Field at 4 o'clock in the afternoon
declining to reveal his destination with a vagueness which sought to suggest that he might be gone for days.

At about 6 o'clock, when there was still a large crowd on the field, his plane was sighted and the mob rushed out as the Ryan monoplane made a poor one-wheel landing. Out of the ship there stepped a young flier whom the throng could not identify and who refused to identify himself. As the unidentified flier was berthing the ship
Lindbergh drove up in a closed car,
and it was learned that he had landed at Mitchell Field and had hired the "unknown" to "double" for him and fly his plane back to this field and the waiting crowd.

KIDNAPED GIRL'S BODY FOUND IN FARM RAVINE

Little Beatrice Rosenbaum's Neck Believed Broken;
Missing Two Weeks.

SIGNS OF STRUGGLE SEEN

Salem, Ohio, May 27 (A.P.).—The
partly clothed body of Beatrice Rosenbaum, 10, who disappeared from her home at Youngstown two weeks ago,
was found in a ravine on the farm of John Lippitt, 2 miles from here today.

The body was identified by David Rosenbaum, 16, and Mrs. Beatrice Goldstein, brother and sister of the dead girl.
Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Rosenbaum, also were summoned here by police.

The girl apparently had been the victim of an attack by a man who was supposed to have kidnapped her, according to Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kinds-batter, although this could not be determined definitely until an autopsy
had been performed.

Deputy Kindsbatter said he believed the child's neck had been broken.

County Coroner W. H. Van Fossan went to Salem, where the body was taken, to conduct an autopsy.

The circumstances of the finding of the body and a single clue furnished by John Lippitt and his wife led to the conclusion today that Beatrice had been kidnaped, as was first believed.

Mr. and Mrs. Lippitt told Police Chief
J. J. McNicholas, of Youngstown, that they observed a small automobile
parked on the road along their farm Friday night. The description of the car indicated that it might have been the roadster in which two neighbor
women of the Rosenbaums said they saw Beatrice carried away.

The body of the child was found by two sons of the Lippitts, Melvin and Levia, about 200 yards from the spot where the farmer and his wife said
they saw the parked automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Lippitt each saw two

FASCIST RIOT PUTS 4 IN BOSTON HOSPITAL

Foes of Mussolini Regime
Battle 300 Parading
Italian Veterans.

Boston, May 27 (A.P.).—Four men were in a hospital suffering from knife wounds and brick bruises following a battle in the north end section of the city today when the antifascist broke up a parade of Italian veterans of the World War. Seven were arrested charged with participating in an affray.
A company of 300 veterans, marching to Panell Hall to celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of Italy's entrance into the World War, was attacked by a crowd. Many of the paraders wore the black shirts of the Fascists.

One of the assailants strove to tear
the Italian flag from the hands of a standard bearer and another tried to snatch an Italian war decoration from a veteran's tunic. Shouts of "Down with Italy" and "Down with Mussolini"
came from the crowd.

Morrow Pays $250 To Escape Dancing

(Special Cable Dispatch.)
Mexico City, May 27.—Dwight W.
Morrow, American Ambassador to Mexico, would rather pay out hard cash
than dance, it was revealed shortly before his departure for the United States yesterday. The ambassador's wife offered $150 to the Young Women's Christian Association drive here if a girl could get Mr. Morrow to dance. The bidding occurred at a benefit ball given by Mrs. Thomas A. Robinson, daughter of President Calles.

The ambassador outbid his wife, however, paying $250 to keep off the ballroom floor. He also declared that he would outbid any increased offers.

FARM VETO SHIFTS PARTY ALIGNMENT AMONG DEMOCRATS

Corn-Belt Nominee for Vice President May Be
Houston Decision.

MIGHT EVEN INDORSE M'NARY-HAUGEN PLAN

Leaders Now Seek Platform
and Ticket to Appeal to Midwest Voters.

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
New York, May 27.—President Cool-
idge's blistering veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill is destined to influence profoundly the action of the Democratic national convention at Houston and the strategy of the Jeffersonians in the election in the opinion of Democratic leaders here. With the nomination of Al Smith universally regarded as a foregone conclusion even by his opponents, interest is veering to the choice of Vice President and to the character of the platform to be adopted at Houston.

As to the Vice Presidency the party will be called upon to decide whether expediency dictates the choice of a dry, Protestant Southerner to counteract prejudice against Gov. Smith's wetness and religion, which is most pronounced in the South or of a Protestant Westerner either wet or dry, for the purpose of making a special bid for the electoral votes of the disaffected Republican corn belt. The big platform question will be the party declarations
on prohibition and farm relief, the latter of which now assumes overshadowing importance by virtue of the opportunity presented to the Democrats of capitalizing the split in the Republican party threatened by farmer resentment
of the Coolidge veto.

Farm Veto Shifts Issue.

Smith is now conservatively credited with 625 delegates in the Houston convention out of the 733½ constituting the two-thirds majority required for nomination. With delegates he is assured of out of those remaining to be selected, and with second-choice support now credited to favorite sons,
Smith seems certain to have not less than 700 votes. He will be so close to the nomination that a band-wagon movement might easily lead to his choice by acclamation on the first ballot.

Before the Coolidge veto upset calculations in both parties the Democratic leaders, particularly those in the Smith camp, were confining the survey of vice presidential possibilities to the Solid South, the hotbed of dry fanaticism and anti-Romanism, and to the border States, which are unvariably debatable ground in presidential elections. Among the entries from the Solid South were Gov. Moody of Texas,
Senator George of Georgia, and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, while Representative Cordell Hull, of Tennessee,
was the offering of the border States.
Since the famous veto, which has suddenly dissipated the apathy of the presidential canvass and marked a turning point in the preconvention

10,000 in Overalls To G. O. P. Session

Lincoln, Neb., May 27 (A.P.).—Ten thousand Oklahoma farmers, wearing straw hats and overalls, are scheduled to go to the Republican national convention at Kansas City to join farmers from other States in a demand for
"economic equality" of agriculture.
Gov. Adam McFadden, sponsor of the march on Kansas City, today said he has been notified.

Protest meetings against the veto of the McNary-Haugen bill are being called in Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska and Minnesota, he declared. "At these meetings," he said, "the farmers will be asked to go to Kansas City June 12
and demonstrate to the Republican convention that they are united on a form of farm relief."

Woman Is Murdered, Body Placed on Rails

Springfield, Mo., May 27 (A.P.).—A gunshot wound in her breast and her head and arms severed, the body of Mrs. Goldie West, 25 years old, of Richland, Mo., was found in the Price
Railroad tracks near St. John, Pulaski County.

A shot had penetrated her heart and physicians declared the wound had undoubtedly caused instant death.

Pulaski County officers said the woman had been murdered and her body placed upon the railroad tracks
in an attempt to conceal the crime.
They are seeking a person with whom
Mrs. West was seen at 9 o'clock Friday night, Sheriff J. W. Wyrick said.

SIGNALS FROM ITALIA RELAYED, ONE OPINION

Six U. S. Navy Stations Keep Watch; Hear the Citti
di Milano Wireless.

Seattle, May 27 (A.P.).—Despite a continuous day and night "watch," the six United States naval radio stations of Alaska had heard no word from the Italia late tonight, although the messages constantly being sent out by the Citti di Milano, mother ship to the dirigible, were being received at short intervals.

The six naval radio stations in Alaska
are at St. Paul Island, Cordova, Dutch Harbor, Kodiak, Sitka and Cape Hinchbrook.

Amateur Gets Signal.

San Francisco, May 27 (A.P.).—A radio station identified by the American Radio Relay League as one operated by a member of the staff of the Far Eastern University at Vladivostok, today broadcast calls asking for help for the dirigible Italia, long overdue on a return journey from the Arctic wastes.

The message was picked up by radio
operators at San Francisco and Portland under the call "AS-RO-3." Identified by the American Radio Relay League as a station operated by M. Gol-vichikoff, of the laboratory of the Far Eastern University at Vladivostok.

Position of the Italia was not given.
The message came after the first of the Italia, then in French, and again in English, garbled and almost indecipherable because of distance or low-powered sending apparatus.

Surmise that the Italia, more than five days out of Spitzbergen on its voyage for the North Pole, was broadcasting its appeal from some point north of Siberia, was advanced because of the repetition with the radio call of RAOS
of the prefix "AS" assigned by the international Amateur Radio Union for use of Siberian stations.

Disaster, Says Message.

The message, repeated with infinite tri-lingual patience from 8:15 a. m. to 7:40 a. m., Pacific Coast time, was:
"S O S, ASRAOS dirigible Italia with Gen. Nobile in disaster. It is equipped to radio on wave length of 40.45 meters.
Please help immediately."

The SOS call was first heard by Charles E. Blackall, a San Francisco amateur operator. Other amateurs and the Radio Corporation of America, notified, tuned to the designated wave
length and heard the same message.

The final faint whispering from the air gave in English the wave length of the Italia's communicating radio as 30.33 meters. Radio men suggested that the dirigible's operator, able to send but not to receive, was running down the scale of wave lengths in his patient effort to make out his message was heard, or that with advancing

Wife Sees Racer Killed as Cars Crash

Toledo, Ohio, May 27 (A.P.).—Roy
Goodwin, 28 years old, of Ann Arbor,
Mich., was killed in a pile-up of automobiles in the sixth lap of a 100-mile auto race here this afternoon. Goodwin's wife, Mrs. Carrie Goodwin, and their daughter, Darline, 5, witnessed the crash from the grand stand, which was filled with 10,000 spectators.

Whiz Sloan, whose car ran over Goodwin's and catapulted over a 6-foot fence without touching it, suffered a broken arm and severe cuts. Harold Pheps, whose car started the mix-up
when it skidded, was uninjured.

Rescue Squad Fails To Save Man's Life

An hour's fruitless battle was waged
by members of the Fire Department rescue squad yesterday in an attempt to save the life of Guy J. Wilcox, 55 years old, of 619 Newton street northwest.

Wilcox was stricken with a heart attack at his home and collapsed to the floor shortly after noon. The rescue squad and Dr. C. N. Chipman, of 1420 Rhode Island avenue northwest, were summoned and worked for an hour in an effort to revive the man. Coroner
J. Ramsay Nevitt certified death from natural causes.

CEREMONY PLANNED TO MARK PAY RAISE BILL BECOMING LAW

Welch and Federal Employees' Leaders Hope to See Signing by Coolidge.

GEN. LORD IS HURRYING RETURN TO PRESIDENT

Chief Executive Expected to Affix Signature Sometime Before Nightfall.

The Welch bill, raising the salaries of 138,000 Federal employees, probably will become the law of the land today. President Coolidge is expected to sign the measure some time before nightfall. The measure, engrossed on parchment paper, was delivered at the White House Saturday by its author, Representative Richard Welch (Republican, California). It then was referred to the Bureau of the Budget.

Brig. Gen. Herbert M. Lord, director of the bureau, said last night that the bill would be returned to the President some time today.

Ceremony is Planned.

If present plans are carried through, the signing of the bill will be quite a ceremony. Unless the President objects, a number of camera men, both still and movie, will be there to make a photographic record of the event.

Representative Welch hopes to be present, and so do Luther G. Steward and Gertrude McNally, president and secretary respectively of the Federation of Federal Employees.

The last named three will be deserving of a good long rest once the bill is signed, for they have nursed it and fought for it ever since it was introduced last December.

No bill ever experienced more legislative ups and downs in its history. It would seem certain of becoming a law, and the next day it would seem doomed to die. Finally, after many compromises, the Senate and House approved the bill Friday and sent it to the President.

After the bill has been signed today, it will be sent to the State Department. There it will be placed in the official archives along with the other laws that are on the statute books.

Tribute to Madden Paid at Services

Memorial services for the late Representative Martin A. Madden, of Illinois, were held yesterday at the Lane Colored Methodist Episcopal Church, Fourteenth and C streets northeast. The Rev. Henry E. Harris, pastor Mrs. Madden and her daughter, accompanied by J. Gilbert Nettleton, attended. The exercises were arranged by Prince Robinson, employed for many years in the Capitol Barber shop.

Tributes to Mr. Madden as a man and as a statesman were paid by Representative Harold Knutson, of Minnesota; Representative Joseph W. Byrnes, of Tennessee; Representative Frank Murphy, of Ohio; Representative Carl R. Chindom and Representative Elliott W. Sproul, of Illinois. Musical numbers were furnished by Prince Robinson and the church choir.

More Women's Rights Party Speaker's Plea

Miss Sarah Pope Grogan, representing the National Woman's Party, in an address yesterday afternoon at the Lincoln Colonnade before more than 500 members and friends of the National Political Club, declared a twentieth amendment to the Constitution is necessary before women will have full equality of property rights, of education, legal and business rights with men. Miss Grogan said the only equality in political life the women have now with the men is the ballot, which, she declared, should be put to greater use.

Miss Jeannette Carter, president of the organization, presided. Other speakers were Dr. Anna Smythe Talliferro, Mrs. Mae Richardson and Mrs. Mayme Jones. Mrs. Willie Dudley sang several selections, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Myrtle Hughes Robinson.

TRIBUTES PAID NUNS FOR CIVIL WAR WORK

Monument to Nurses Decorated by Auxiliary of Hibernians' Order.

Several hundred persons yesterday afternoon attended the memorial services in honor of the nuns who acted as nurses to soldiers during the Civil War. The exercises were under the auspices of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and were held at the Nuns' Monument, Connecticut avenue and Rhode Island avenue northwest.

Col. U. S. Grant 3d placed a wreath upon the monument which was sent by Mrs. Calvin Coolidge. Others who placed wreaths were Mrs. J. Leo Koll, Mrs. Mary T. Moran, Miss Elizabeth Lynn, president of the Ladies Auxiliary; Miss Nellie S. Whitton, of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae; Patrick J. Hailigan, of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and the Catholic Daughters of America.

Maj. Harry Coppe, Patrick J. Murphy, the Rev. Michael Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Elmer Dwyer, James T. McCarthy, M. E. Buckley, Daniel M. Stanton, Thomas McGrath, Joseph A. Daly, Patrick J. Murphy, Joseph Dugan, John T. O'Connor, Martin Fleming and Mr. Hailigan.

Services Dedicate Abbey Mausoleum

A combination memorial and dedication ceremony at the recently completed Abbey Mausoleum, adjoining the Arlington National Cemetery, was held in the chapel of the structure yesterday afternoon. A representative assemblage of leaders in various fraternal organizations and in business and civic circles was present.

James E. Collier, whose efforts resulted in the erection of the mausoleum, made a brief opening address. The dedication of the structure by the Rev. Thomas W. Cooke, pastor of the Church of the Ascension, followed. A short talk on "The History of Mausoleums" was made by Col. Ward N. Cooper, president of the Continental Trust Co., and the memorial address was by Charles W. Darr, State deputy of the Knights of Columbus.

JOHNSON TO PUSH BOULDER DAM BILL SHOWDOWN TODAY

Senator to Make Final Drive for Vote, in Face of Filibuster.

OPPOSITION PREPARED FOR ENDURANCE TEST

Californian Warns He Will Block All Efforts to Displace Measure.

(Associated Press.)

Battling against time, Senator Johnson (Republican, California), starts his final drive today for a vote in the Senate on his Boulder Canyon Dam bill.

Already approved by the House, the measure held its position as the order of business in the Senate against two determined attacks Saturday, and now Johnson is turning his attention to keeping Congress in session long enough to permit a vote in the face of the filibuster by the opposition.

A showdown on the time element comes today at the conclusion of the regular two hours of morning business in the Senate. A vote will be taken at that time on the House resolution fixing Tuesday at 5 p. m. as the adjournment date for this session.

Two Amendments Ready.

Senator Johnson has two amendments pending to the resolution, which will be voted upon first. He will propose in one amendment that a week from next Tuesday be made the adjournment date. If that is rejected, he will propose adjournment on next Saturday.

Meanwhile, the Californian has raised his hand against the consideration of any other business. He has the power to block everything else until the Senate votes on Boulder Dam. He has vowed to displace it as the unfinished business, and he gave notice on Saturday that he would exercise that power.

Across the aisle Senators Ashurst and Hayden, of Arizona, sat grimly determined to go to the limit, regardless of what adjournment date is decided upon, to prevent a vote on the bill which they contend would rob their State of its water power and only resource.

Foes are Prepared.

Behind the Arizona senators sits King (Democrat), Utah, and nearby on the other side of the chamber is the veteran Smoot (Republican), Utah, who already has killed two days in previous consideration of Boulder Dam. His declaration that he would not yield to the "physical endurance" which Johnson has declared he will force.

How many votes he can muster to delay adjournment of Congress Johnson is not quite sure of. He is confident, however, of his ability to line up a majority to beat down any attempt at breaking up a continuous meeting, and from today noon on he intends to force such a meeting.

Forces Show Strength.

BOATS ARE TO TAKE PART

Members of the Cabinet and the Diplomatic Corps will receive today official invitations to the ceremonies and pageant in celebration of the Chesapeake & Ohio Canal centenary, to be held Saturday on the banks of the Potomac River and the canal above Chain Bridge, from a group of Boy Scouts from Troop 60, under the direction of Scoutmaster Kenneth Smoot.

Civic, patriotic and educational groups and organizations in the city are being registered as participants in the celebration in large numbers. It is expected that each citizens' association will have at least one representative participating in the pageant.

Associations already designating participants and their names are: Park View, John W. Lambert, Dahlgren Terrace, J. G. Kinsburg, Northwest, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Lightfoot, Conduit Road, Mrs. Robert E. Adams, B. B. Leitch, Mrs. Isabel T. Price, and West End, Clifton W. Ayers.

Mrs. Giles Scott Rector, president of the District of Columbia Parent-Teacher Association, will announce the representation from that organization. Mrs. Novels McGraw, Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, Ruth Roberta McCrory, Mary Livingston, Helen Bunton, Elizabeth Wharton, Georgiana Lightfoot and Julia Bell will participate in the pageant as representatives of the Wakefield Society of the C. A. R.

Plans were completed for Saturday afternoon include the embarkation at 3:30 o'clock of the pageant party from the foot of Wisconsin avenue in the U. S. Navy launches, followed by yachts and small craft representing the Capital Yacht Club, headed by Commodore Richard S. Doyle, Corinthian Yacht Club, headed by Commodore A. B. Bennett, Potomac Boat Club, and the East Power Boat Co.

A section of the U. S. Marine Band will accompany this group, which will include the leading characters in the pageant. At Fletcher's boathouse the U. S. Navy launches will be met by barges, with the full Marine Band on board and will proceed to the ceremonies above Chain Bridge.

Descriptions of the automobile were flashed to every police precinct a short time after the accident, and Headquarters Detectives E. Thompson and Thomas Nalley were assigned to investigate.

ALIGNMENT OF DEMOCRATS SHIFTED BY FARM BILL VETO

ing of the tocsin of Midwestern Republican revolt that has ensued have caused many Democratic leaders to declare that a new alignment is in the making. The new alignment is the adoption of a plank at Houston promising that the Democrats will support the line of the McNary-Haugen bill. Do that, they say in effect, and the Republican corn belt will go Democratic.

The fact that the McNary-Haugen bill is a device for making effective the "farm belt" vote, a position previously abandoned by the Democrats, creates no difficulty from the viewpoint of these Democratic opportunists. They declare that the McNary-Haugen bill is not so much a plank as it is a Republican measure.

They declare that the McNary-Haugen bill is not so much a plank as it is a Republican measure.

It is not doubted that the Democrats who are opposed to "committing the party to McNary-Haugenism will make themselves heard at Houston, and they may be strong enough to force a material modification of the bid that will be made for the agricultural vote.

Prohibition Fight Fades.

The prospect entertained some months ago of a knock-out fight at Houston over the prohibition plank in the platform has been gradually fading. The expectations of a battle were based chiefly on Gov. Smith's declaration in his Jackson day letter that "we can not carry water on both shoulders;" that the Democratic party must talk not to the American people in no uncertain terms, and that the principle of the noninterference by the Federal Government "with local habits" should be applied to the prohibition question.

This utterance was interpreted at the time as notice that Smith would fight for Houston for a plank committing the party to State jurisdiction of the intoxicating liquor. But Smith now does not appear disposed to press the views he expressed in the Jackson day letter, so far as they relate to prohibition. His chief sponsors have stated in so many words that there will be no fight here for a wet or even a moist plank at Houston. They would oppose a fanatical bone-dry plank, but they would accept a law enforcement declaration of the innocuous nature incorporated in previous platforms. Now that Smith virtually has the nomination in his grasp, the Democratic party has a promising chance of winning the election, the Smith faction wants party harmony and will go to almost any length to get it.

Farm Relief Divides Party.

The prevailing opinion among friends of the governor is that he will keep mum on prohibition and all other issues until after the convention, but that in the meantime he will give his views on the dry law and reiterate his advocacy of a national referendum along the lines of the New York and Illinois referendum of 1926, the object of which is the eventual restoration of non-intoxicating beer as defined by State instead of Federal law.

When it comes to the issue of farm relief the Democratic party is no less divided than the Republican. For that reason the adoption of the agricultural plank may be attained by as much party travel at Houston as at Kansas City. The Coolidge veto and the sound-

162 LICENSES REVOKED BY RADIO BOARD ORDER

Only One Local Station, Operated by Bliss School, Listed to Close in 60 Days.

GIVEN RIGHT TO APPEAL

Looking toward further elimination of interference in radio broadcasting channels, the Federal Radio Commission yesterday ordered the licenses of 162 stations revoked if they fail to prove by August 1 that the "public interest, convenience and necessity" will best be served by an extension of their broadcasting privileges.

Although the licenses would have expired automatically June 1, the commission's action serves to circumvent all possibility of renewals in the event the radio stations enjoin proof unsatisfactory in arguing their rights to a continuance. A 60-day extension was granted to all 162 to allow them an opportunity to state their claims.

The order announcing the proposed revocations fixed July 9 as the time of public hearing on all applications for renewal filed by stations which would be discontinued under the ruling. Arguments will be heard in the offices of the Federal Radio Commission here.

Ninety-one of the stations affected are located in the radio radio zone, within a few days of the Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin. In addition, the licenses of 36 stations in the first zone, 30 in the second zone and 5 in the fifth zone would be revoked under the order.

Only one local broadcasting station, WBBS, of Takoma Park, Md., would be affected by its license. Inasmuch as WBBS is operated by the Bliss Electrical School and would come under the head of educational stations, it is believed that it may receive more sympathetic consideration than an ordinary small amusement broadcasting program station. It operates on 100 watts and has a wave length of 265.3 meters (1,130 kilocycles).

The next nearest station to be cited in this vicinity is WCBM, a 100-watt transmitter, which is located at the Hotel Chateau, Baltimore.

MRS. IDA V. JOHNSON TO BE BURIED TODAY

Postoffice Auditor, Who Died Friday, Was to Have Retired Soon.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida V. Johnson, 47 years old, general welfare worker and auditor for the Postoffice Department Division of the General Accounting Office, who died Friday morning from heart trouble at Providence Hospital, will be held this afternoon from Hyson's Funeral Chapel at 2 o'clock. MORROW, ON HIS WAY HERE, REACHES TEXAS

Laredo, Tex., May 27 (A.P.).—Ambassador Dwight Morrow arrived in the United States today, en route from Mexico City to Washington, where he expects to confer Thursday with President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg.

Ambassador Morrow crossed the border at Laredo, after an uneventful trip in a private car attached to the regular passenger train, which carried the usual escort of one car of soldiers.

Representatives of Mexico boarded the train at Monterey and accompanied the ambassador to Nuevo Laredo, on the Mexican side of the border. There the American Consul, Rafael de la Colina, and other representatives of the Mexican Government, including Maj. Charles F. Williams, commandant at Fort McIntosh, joined the party.

The ambassador said his present plans call for arrival in New York Wednesday afternoon. He will go at once to his home in Englewood, N. J., leaving at midnight for Washington.

The conferences with the President and the Secretary of State, he said, will keep him in the Capital through Sunday.

RUPTURE IS NOT A TEAR NO BREAK TO HEAL

Some people have a mistaken idea that rupture is a tear. Rupture is not a tear, but purely a muscular weakness in the abdominal wall. Trusses merely brace these muscles, but do not strengthen them—the contrary the gouging of the ordinary truss pad often increases this weakness, because it tends to shut off blood circulation. STUART'S ADHESIF PLAPAO-PADS are entirely different—being mechanic-chemical applicators—made self-adhesive purposely to keep the muscle-tonic, called "Plapao" continuously applied to the affected parts, and to minimize danger of slipping and painful friction. No straps, buckles or springs attached. Soft as velvet—easy to apply—inexpensive. Awarded Gold Medal, Rome, Grand Prix, Paris, Honorable Mention, Panama Pacific Exposition, San Francisco, etc. For almost a quarter century satisfied thousands report success—without delay from work. Stacks of sworn testimonials received even from the far corners of the Earth. Process of recovery is natural, so no subsequent use for trusses.

Stop wasting your time and money on old-fashioned truss devices. Learn how to close the hernial opening so the rupture can't come down. TRIO OF METHODIST BISHOPS SET APART BEFORE BIG CROWD

Newly Elected Men Receive Laying On of Hands at Kansas City.

ASSIGNMENT OF POSTS IS YET TO BE MADE

Scores of Important Reports Still to Be Acted On by Conference.

Kansas City, May 27 (A.P.).—Consecration of the three newly elected bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church in a spectacular ceremony here today climaxed the four weeks' session of the quadrennial general conference which concluded at noon Tuesday. The conference convened May 1.

In an impressive laying on of hands, Bishops Raymond J. Wade, of Chicago, and James C. Baker, of Urbana, Ill., and Missionary Bishop Edwin F. Lee, of Singapore, were consecrated to their episcopal duties before a record crowd in Convention Hall.

Assignment of the 33 effective bishops to residences throughout the world remained as the principal business of the conference, though scores of important reports were still to be discussed.

Dr. Merton S. Rice, chairman of the subcommittee of the episcopacy committee which assigns bishops, said his committee likely would report late Monday night or Tuesday morning.

His committee's work was greatly complicated, he said, by the sudden dramatic election Friday night, after a three-day deadlock, of Dr. E. Stanley Jones, missionary to India, to the episcopacy and Dr. Jones' even more dramatic resignation last night which threw the conference into near confusion at the eleventh hour before consecration.

Holds Election Unsound.

Dr. Jones, first man ever to refuse an Episcopal appointment, told the conference he had been elected on a wave of emotion, following the dramatic appeal of Friday night of Miss Helen Kim, of Seoul, Korea, against consolidation of the Seoul-Manila residences and that he did not believe his election was a sound choice. Further than that, he declared, he did not want to leave his evangelistic work in India, where he has served for more than twenty years.

Following a hasty session of the episcopacy committee the conference voted to accept the resignation and consolidate the Manila-Singapore areas under the church's only missionary bishop, Dr. Lee, thus eliminating one Episcopal residence and reducing the number of bishops.

Dr. Lee was chosen virtually by acclamation yesterday morning by the election-weary delegates.

Twenty ballots had been taken before Dr. Jones was elected and the conference believed it could not chance resumption of balloting with consecration set for today.

Battle Over Bishops.

Discussion of the episcopacy and election of the three bishops dominated conference business throughout last week. A bitter debate on life election or election for a term of bishops which broke out early in the week was finally settled Tuesday night after the convention decided it would be unconstitutional to alter present life elections.

Balloting began at once and Dr. Wade was chosen on the second ballot Wednesday. Dr. Baker's election on the sixth ballot followed, then the conference was thrown into a deadlock over choice of a third bishop which was broken Friday night by the election of Dr. Jones, who earlier had told the conference he did not want an episcopal appointment.

The Rev. John P. Ingels, former head of the Jerusalem Church in Copenhagen, Denmark, who was unfrocked and ousted from the church in 1925 for his connection in the Bishop Anton East civil trial was ordered reinstated to full ministry and membership. The judiciary committee reported Mr. Ingels had been unfrocked illegally and without sufficient cause.

Scores of workmen will be waiting at the doors of the hall Tuesday and immediately on adjournment will begin conversion of the hall's interior from its present cathedral-like setting to a political arrangement to receive the Republican national convention which convenes there just two weeks later.

Linemen have surrounded the hall for a week laying telegraph and telephone wires.

PRESBYTERIANS TO ASK ASSEMBLY TO BACK DRYS

Unofficial Meeting Resolves to Submit Resolution at Today's Session.

MRS. BOOLE GIVES LIST

Tulsa, Okla., May 27 (A.P.).—Resolutions asking that national political conventions adopt party platforms pledging candidates for national office to enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and nominate candidates "who, by their utterances, acts and records are committed to this policy" were adopted at an unofficial meeting of delegates to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. here today.

The resolutions, drawn up by Dr. J. W. Clardy, head of the moral welfare department of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, probably will be submitted to the general assembly tomorrow.

They were presented after an address by Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, in which she also asked that the conventions be committed to a dry platform and dry candidates, naming candidates for nomination for President, whom she classified as wet or dry.

She designated as wet Gov. Alfred E. Smith, of New York; Senator James W. Wadsworth, of New York; Representative Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio; Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri.

As dry candidates for presidential nomination, she listed Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas; Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce; Vice President Charles Dawes, of Indiana; Senator George of Georgia, and Edwin T. Meredith, former Secretary of Agriculture.

"The time has come," said Mrs. Boole at the meeting conducted by the Board of Christian Education of the church, "when political parties should declare in no uncertain language their policy on the subject of prohibition and its enforcement."

Memorial Day

Make It Memorable for Safety

IT is good that we should set aside a day in which to honor the memory of those who gave their lives in this Nation's cause. We owe much to these heroes who died in order that our country might be kept safe for democracy.

We are often appalled by this sacrifice of life, yet we seldom stop to consider that every year 90,000 persons including 20,000 children under 15 years of age, are killed by accidents in the United States—a greater number than were ever killed on any field of battle. This terrific traffic toll may not be entirely eliminated but it can be greatly reduced if everyone will do his part to think, teach and practice safety at every opportunity. Memorial Day is a good time to remember this and do your part toward making life safer and happier for everyone.

$17,000 of Hermit's Hoard, Buried in Bottle, Stolen

Thieves Overlook $11,000 More of the Savings of Thomas Barnett, Hidden About His Lonely Home; Mother and Daughter Questioned.

Seventeen thousand dollars in new $1,000 bills, concealed in a hole in the earth by Thomas Barnett, a 78-year-old hermit, was stolen from its place of concealment during its owner's absence from his home on Riggs road, near the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad tracks, yesterday afternoon.

The money, in a milk bottle, was sunk in a shallow shaft of terra cotta pipe which was covered by a huge iron kettle. Barnett hid the money there on the advice of friends about two weeks ago, he told the police. The thieves failed to locate $11,000 more which the aged man had hidden about the small house where he lives.

Twelfth Precinct police questioned last night two women, a mother and her daughter, in connection with the disappearance of the money. They also took into custody a close friend of Barnett's. He was later released.

The robbery occurred while Barnett was on a visit to an attorney. He told the police that distant relatives were taking possession of the property on which he lives as the result of a court decision which held invalid a deed to the place given him in 1918 by a cousin. By a court order he must leave July 2.

Barnett, a former farmer, is reputed to have amassed a considerable fortune through speculation in real estate. He is known throughout the section where he lives for his eccentricities. Living alone, his house is said to be heavily armed.

About five years ago when his home was invaded by a negro Barnett put up a fierce struggle. At the time there was $12,500 in the house, but the would-be robber fled from Barnett's attack. He was later arrested.

After that experience he decided to keep his money in the bank. It was only recently when litigation arose over his property that he withdrew his funds. He mentioned to the police that he had been told a bank account could be attached.

Barnett was born in From Maryland. He made wise May 24, 1928.

A Lesson in Security

Deplorable and unnecessary are losses like the one noted above. Conference with a bank officer would have protected Mr. Barnett's interests without subjecting his funds to any risk of loss. The worst way to "protect" money is to withdraw it from the bank.

An additional $1,015 was lost by Mr. Barnett every year that the money was out of our Savings Department, where 3% interest is paid.

Moral! We think you can write your own!

INDUSTRIALS SHOW MIXED TREND OVER 2-MONTH PERIOD

Increased Output in Metals Indicated in Federal Reserve Report.

WHOLESALE COMMODITY PRICES GAIN IN APRIL

Monetary Gold Stock Is Decreased $90,000,000 by Outward Movement.

(Associated Press.)

A mixed trend of industrial activity was reported yesterday by the Federal Reserve Board in a review of business conditions for April and May.

While industrial activity continued, the board said the volume reflected chiefly an increase in output in the metal industries, while activity in the industries producing food and clothing decreased. Wholesale and retail trade also declined and the general level of wholesale commodity prices increased in April, reflecting advances in farm products.

The outward movement of gold continued in April and May, the decline in monetary gold stock during the four weeks ended May 25 being nearly $90,000,000. This loss of gold, the board said, together with further sales of United States securities by the Reserve bank, was reflected in an increase of nearly $140,000,000 in member bank borrowing at the Reserve bank and money rates showed further advances.

Security Loans Increase.

"At member banks," the board added, "loans largely for commercial and industrial purposes, following a rapid increase during February and March, have shown little change since the early part of April. Loans on securities continued to increase and total loans and investments of reporting member banks in the middle of May were larger than at any previous time.

"Production of manufacturers remained in about the same volume in April as in March, while output of minerals declined slightly, owing chiefly to a decrease in production of aluminum coal," the review continued. "Daily average output of iron and steel, copper and zinc increased in April, but since the first of May there has been some curtailment in steel mill activity.

"Automobile production was maintained in large volume during April and according to preliminary reports also during the first half of May. Textile mill activity, output of boots and shoes and meat production showed substantial declines during April.

Employment on Decline.

"Volume of factory employment declined slightly, reflecting chiefly decreases in the food, leather and textile industries. Building construction in April exceeded those of any previous month and awards during the first three weeks of May continued in unusually large volume.

"Sales by department stores and by wholesale firms in most lines of trade declined in April and were in smaller volume than a year ago. Freight car loadings showed an increase between the beginning of April and the middle of May, but continued smaller than a year ago for most classes of commodities."

WEEK'S PRICES ON CURB

SAG, SOAR, THEN REACT

Shorter Trading Day Reduces Business; Industrials Mostly Irregular.

MINING SHARES ACTIVE

New York, May 27 (A.P.).—Business in the curb market last week was reduced in volume because of the shorter trading day. Prices sagged in the first two days under the influence of high money rates and the increased Federal Reserve Bank discount rate, soared in midweek when bull traders got aboard and then subsided under the influence of the close under week-end profit taking.

Announcement of a proposed transcontinental air mail service was the important feature of the week's trading. Aero Supply and A. B. Curtis Aero Exports and newly listed Transcontinental Air Transport and Right Aero rights were quickly lifted to new high levels and showed almost as rapid declines under profit taking.

Industrials generally were irregular, with favorable individual or trade developments largely responsible for appreciation in prices. Such specialties as Lehigh Coal & Navigation and some of the food and grain stock shares rose on public reports of reports indicating that increased earnings might be expected.

Control had been after the flood-control bill had been signed, such issues as Hercules Powder, Great Lakes Dock & Dredge, and some cement company issues all showed gains. The stock trade which probably will become active as flood-control operations get under way, showed a brief rise in midweek, but sagged under profit taking.

Reports of pending mergers attracted buyers to some utilities, particularly American Light & Traction, United Light & Power, and Canadian Marconi. General Baking, Fox Theaters A and other leaders of last week's advance were un-derstandably inactive.

AMERICAN EXPORT OF CAPITAL SHOWS DECLINE FOR YEAR

Excess of Money Sent Over Imports Put at $671,000,000 in Report.

COMMERCE OFFICIALS MAKE COMPUTATION

Gold, Goods and Service Furnished World Offset by Huge Amount Sent Here.

(Associated Press.)

A very considerable shrinkage in the assumed total of American investment abroad was disclosed yesterday in the annual Commerce Department study of the nation's economic exchanges for 1927.

The sum total of American capital nominally invested abroad for 1927 was found to be $1,976,000,000, but in the same year, with less advertisement, foreigners invested in the United States the huge sum of $977,000,000. In the face of new loans and the repayment of the United States debt, the net result was a shrinkage of $1,000,000,000.

Secretary Hoover, surveying the showing, calculated that with the reduction in the year's American investment abroad which had to be made in the nominal totals to give effect to refunding, commissions and discounts, the nation's net export of capital in 1927 was only about $671,000,000, a figure much smaller than supposed.

Tourists' Spendings Huge.

Along with this another figure against the United States was found in the estimate that this country's tourists abroad in 1927 spent $617,000,000, money that had to be furnished from this country.

Both of the figures given were derived in the attempt to determine just what payments the United States received in the course of its international business last year, and what payments it made, not alone for the visible trade in commodities and gold, but also on the "invisible" exchange which includes foreign investments, tourist expenditures and a thousand other items.

The compilation, Secretary Hoover observed, "is perhaps the most important of the United States' economic relations."

Items Nearly Balanced.

Taking into consideration all items, the survey calculated that during 1927 the United States furnished the world abroad with gold, goods and services amounting to $9,116,000,000. The world furnished the United States, in return, items to a total of $9,121,000,000.

The accounts do not actually balance, but the $5,000,000 difference, the survey concluded, represents unavoidable error and the result of untraced transactions.

For 1928, a similar survey calculated that the United States gained credit abroad to a total of $8,713,000,000, while the world abroad gained credit within the United States to a more than balancing total of $8,899,000,000.

In tracing out the complicated balances of international payments, the Commerce Department took into consideration not only the shipments of goods and the sales of securities, but also the smuggling of liquors, narcotics and similar unlawful operations.

Unlawful Payments Lumped.

In 1926 it was estimated that the nation incurred a debt abroad of $40,000,000 for its bootleg liquor supply, but this year the report said that "certain public officers found ground to object to such public disclosure."

It was concluded that during 1927 the United States obtained a credit of $189,000,000 against this country by such operations.

This was $9,000,000 greater than the like total for 1926, but no official view was expressed as to how much liquor smuggling had to do with the increase.

"The broad purposes of the survey are, of course, to obtain a clearer understanding of the larger international transactions," Mr. Hoover said in a foreword to the study, "to discover how much we paid out nationally and how much has been paid to us. From it we are able to form sounder judgments as to the situation of foreign nations, as to the forces that are likely to affect the stability of the currency and foreign exchanges and as to many other factors."

Debt Payments Offset.

"Another of the important disclosures from this study is the fact that the capacity of foreign people to purchase American goods or to repay obligations to the United States is enhanced by the sum of approximately $900,000,000 through the $1,000,000,000 expended by foreigners in the United States, and the $1,000,000,000 received by immigrants in the United States to relatives at home, the $43,000,000 of American charitable contributions to foreign countries, and our payments to other countries of $32,000,000 for freight.

These sums almost exactly offset the net amount paid to us by foreigners for interest on their private debts and upon their war debts to our Government."

Sister of Hickman Held in Store Theft

Kansas City, May 27 (A.P.).—Mary Hickman, 18-year-old sister of William Edward Hickman, who is under sentence of death in California for the kidnapping and slaying of Marian Parker, Los Angeles school girl, was held for investigation by the police here after she admitted obtaining clothing from several stores under false pretenses.

CORPORATION FORMED TO ASSIST COMMUNITIES

Members of American Civic Association Plan to Enlarge Activities.

HAS AIDED 1,000 TOWNS

The American Civic Association, for 24 years a national association of public-spirited citizens banded together to bring about better living conditions in the United States, has become an incorporated body. The incorporators are Frederick A. Delano, J. Horace McFarland, Frederick Law Olmsted, L. Edwin C. Graham and George W. White.

The association has played an active part in the promotion and protection of national parks and in the development of Washington.

It has furnished information to more than 1,000 towns and cities on specific items of civic improvement. The officers are: Frederick A. Delano, president; J. C. Nichols, John Barton Payne, William C. Gregg, Mrs. Edward W. Biddle, George B. Dealey, J. Horace McFarland, Frederick Law Olmsted, Vance C. McCormick and Albert Shaw, vice presidents; George W. White, treasurer; Harlan Olmsted, executive secretary; and Mrs. Albert Lee Thurman, associate secretary.

The members of the executive board, in addition to the officers, are: Thomas Adams, Henry A. Barker, Harland Bartholomew, Harold A. Caproni, Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, Miss H. M. Derritt, George B. Ford, James Ford, John M. Gies, Chauncey J. Hamlin, Mrs. Dwight H. Heard, Edwin C. Graham, Clyde L. King, T. P. Linn, Elettus D. Litchfield, Irving E. Macomber, Warren H. Manning, Charles David Marx, John C. Merriam, Mrs. E. C. T. Miller, John Nolen, Lawson Purdy, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. John D. Sherman, Lorado Taft, Charles H. Wacker, Richard B. Watrous, Frank A. Waugh, S. P. Webb, Jr., J. Locke Wilson and Clinton Rogers Woodruff.

United Presbyterian Boards Are Combined

St. Louis, May 27 (A.P.).—Reorganization of the various boards of the United Presbyterian Church and the elimination of the general council were voted favorably at the annual national convention of the church here. Church leaders said it was one of the most important steps taken in the 70 years the organization has been in existence.

The board of home missions, church extension and negro work, were consolidated into one board to be known as the board of American missions. The general council of 21 members is replaced by a board of administration of 16 members, consisting of 4 each from the boards of foreign missions, American missions, education and ministerial relief. The new system will go into effect August 1, 1928.

Woodridge to Open
Flower Show Tonight

The annual spring flower show of the Woodridge Garden Club will be held tonight and tomorrow night at the Sherwood Presbyterian Hall, Twenty-second street and Rhode Island avenue northeast. Prizes will be offered for iris, peonies, roses, flowering shrubs, various perennials and annuals, vegetables and fruits.

As a sweepstakes prize, the winner of the largest number of points will receive the medal of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society. Ribbons will be awarded other prize winners. J. M. R. Adams, of Takoma Park, and Whitman Cross, of Chevy Chase, are judges. The show will be open from 8 to 10 o'clock each evening.

King of Yugoslavia Called "Radio King"

Belgrade, May 27 (A.P.).—King Alexander of Yugoslavia is known in the Balkans as "the radio king." He has installed a powerful radio receiving apparatus in each of his six palaces in Yugoslavia and often he sits up until 4 o'clock in the morning trying to snatch New York, Shenandoah or some other American station out of the ether. So far, he has been unable to log a United States station.

His wife, Queen Marie, often must drive him from the set that he may get a few hours sleep.

Soon Alexander intends to install a sending set so that he can converse at will with his brother monarchs of Europe.

Czech Engineers Here To Study Steel Mills

A group of engineers from two of the largest steel companies in Czechoslovakia, who are in this country to study the methods employed in the large steel and iron companies of the eastern part of the United States, are passing several days in Washington. They are registered at the Mayflower Hotel.

Included in the party are W. Linder, Vladimir Korinek and Hans Buchner, of Trinec; Edward Ley, of Karlsbad, and Franz Kuhn, of Rothenau, representatives of the Bohemia-Neudeck Co. They are accompanied by Paul Cebart, consulting engineer, of New York.

Photographers to Meet.

H. L. Corey, business counselor of the Photographers Association of America, will address a dinner meeting of the Commercial Photographers Association of Washington to be held at 6:30 o'clock tonight in the City Club. A number of photographs selected from those shown at the Louisville convention last month will be on view.

YOUTH IN REBELLION AGAINST BIBLE, CLAIM

Rev. Dr. B. G. Wilkinson Puts Blame for Condition on False Propaganda.

False propaganda against the Bible and the existence of God is on the verge of ruining the youth of America, Dr. B. G. Wilkinson, dean of theology at Washington Missionary College, told a large audience at the Arcadia last night.

The dean urged a more reverent attitude toward God and more respect for Government and home, for it is concerning this trinity that the stamp of rebellion is so noticeable in the youth. "Unless the United States awakes," he said, "the stamp of rebellion will be firmly fixed on the youth."

Dr. Wilkinson charged that the churches are neglecting their sacred duty of working for young people as individuals for the more pompous program of forcing religion on all through legislation. Church federations, blind to the real issue, he said, are making matters worse by attempting to make religion a matter of civil law.

Mr. Miller, health expert from the Washington Sanatorium, talked on health diets prior to the lecture.

Army Is to Graduate Forty-Five Nurses

NOTHING equals women's natural beauty or the radiance of girlhood's glowing freshness.

Today, at forty women are not as old-looking as they were a few years back. And complexion, once despaired of are regaining former loveliness.

The secret is a simple home beauty treatment. Follow it night and morning and your skin will keep its natural loveliness. Follow these directions:

First, work up a lather of the palm and olive oils embodied in Palmolive Soap. Massage them into the skin with your two hands until they penetrate and gently cleanse the pores of powder, rouge and dirt. Then rinse, first with warm water, then with cold. Do this daily without fail.

Women by the thousands will tell you it is the best way they know to prevent blackheads, blemishes, enlarged pores and common skin faults.

Note the natural glow of girlhood days that follows its use. Use only Palmolive—a soap made for one purpose—to safeguard good complexion. 10 cents, everywhere. The Palmolive-Feet Company, Chicago, Ill.

New York, May 27 (A.P.).—Reports of marked improvement in the crop outlook, particularly in the winter and spring wheat areas, provided the most encouraging business and trade news last week. The general business situation continued spotty, retail trade particularly being hampered by unseasonably cold weather.

Signs of the usual seasonal slackening were beginning to appear in the steel industry, but the lowering of production was a gradual process. Automobile manufacture continued at a high rate, but railroad equipment buying to date has been disappointing. Further improvement was noted in the copper industry, the price of the red metal for export touching 15 cents a pound. Lead prices also were advanced. The American Petroleum Institute reported a decrease of 16,400 barrels in the daily average gross crude oil production for the week ended May 19, the sharpest drop taking place in the west Texas fields.

Wholesale Foodstuffs Gain.
Price movements in the wholesale commodity markets were mixed, with foodstuffs showing the largest number of gains. Refined sugar prices advanced 1-10 of a cent a pound during the week.

Despite the reduced volume of securities trading, resulting from the abbreviated sessions last week, bank clearings continued to show gains over the corresponding periods last year. Higher money rates had a sobering effect on securities speculation, but failed to check the expansion of commercial loans.

Freight car loadings passed the million mark for the first time this year in the week ended May 12, but continued to fall below the corresponding weeks of 1927 and 1926.

Unrest Over Politics.
With the political conventions only a few weeks away, uneasiness over the effect of the presidential campaign on business show signs of increasing. The attitude of the major parties and their candidates on the subjects of taxation, tariff, farm relief and rail legislation is eagerly awaited, and there are indications that some business plans are being held in abeyance until the candidates are named and the chief issues more clearly defined.

Its semiannual meeting on Friday that seasonal conditions are favorable and that the industry expected a volume of business greater than last year. "The past winter has been one of the most prosperous periods we have ever known," he added, discussing general business conditions, "and though this is a presidential year, the moderation in business which a presidential year usually brings about has been less manifest this year than has been the case in other years when political uncertainties hovered over the horizon."

Wall Street Briefs

New York, May 27 (A.P.).—F. R. Henderson, president of the Rubber Exchange of New York, sees in the statistical position of rubber the possibility of a scarcity in the next few months. This doubtless explained the gradual accumulation of rubber by outsider interests that had been taking place for some time, he said.

The financial strength of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey is reflected in the balance sheet showing cash of about $42,000,000 and marketable securities approximating $127,150,000, which was left after the poor showing for 1927, with surplus of only $1,857,000 after dividend payments of $38,500,000.

Wall street is showing interest as the time approaches for action on the plan of American Agricultural Chemical for adjusting back dividends on the preferred stock. Some quarters expect a dividend readjustment plan will provide for issuance of new securities in dividends in arrears.

Consolidated net income of General Gas and Electric and subsidiaries for the year ended April 30 was $3,303,640, compared with $2,872,021 the year before, a gain of 15 per cent.

Class A stock of Evans Auto Leading Co. has been called for conversion into B stock up to July 2. Earnings for four months this year were $296,000, against $233,054 a year ago.

Almost four times as much brass pipe is used today as in 1922, sales last year amounting to 62,934,300 pounds, the Copper and Brass Research Association says. This total is expected to be exceeded by 18,000,000 pounds in 1928. In 1923 sales showed an increase of only 4 per cent. Since then the average annual gain has been 74.5 per cent.

W. J. McKee, vice president of the Osgood Bradley Car Co., foresees improvement in city traffic conditions when trolley cars are made swifter and more comfortable than automobiles. The company has a new model car designed especially along these lines.

In the absence of any general trend in business as a whole, the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, says agricultural conditions are being watched even more closely than usual as an indication of the probable course of trade in the rest of the year. The chief factors in the farming situation at present are the strong background provided by the recovery of purchasing power in 1927 and the comparatively high prices now prevailing in the markets for leading farm products.

Associated Gas and Electric System

To the Holders of 5 1/2% Convertible Gold

Debentures due February 1, 1927:

These Debentures are convertible, for a limited period, into Class A and Common Stock of the Company. A very large amount have now been retired by conversion, exchange or purchase.

The first $10,000,000 surrendered for conversion may be converted on the basis of two shares of Class A and one share of Common Stock for each $110 principal amount of Debentures. The conversion price increases thereafter $5 per unit for each additional $5,000,000.

The Company has designated The Chase National Bank of the City of New York, 57 Broadway, as its Agent to Accept Debentures for conversion which will issue receipts pending the issuance of the Stock.

It is planned before long to retire the remainder of these Debentures by call for redemption as the purchase of any quantity of them below their redemption price of 105 is no longer possible.

Therefore, those who intend ultimately to take advantage of the conversion privilege should deposit their Debentures promptly in order to secure conversion on the most favorable basis. Debentures may be deposited subject to the condition that they are to be returned in case they do not fall within the first $10,000,000 surrendered for conversion.

Debentures surrendered should be accompanied by all coupons maturing August 1, 1928, and subsequently. Accrued interest and dividends will be adjusted, and stock will be delivered, as of the first day of the month following the surrender of the Debentures for conversion. If surrendered ten days before the first of the month.

Dated May 25, 1928.

What a Living TrustWould Have Accomplished!*OLD John is a night watchman! If you were to talk with him you would find him to be a man of education and business training, a man who once possessed money and real estate but who now has nothing!

For many years he conducted a small but profitable business. At sixty, considering himself sufficiently wealthy, he sold his business and retired. Unused to the possession of ready cash, his family became wasteful and extravagant. John, desirous of giving them all they wanted, speculated to increase his fortune and lost it.

Had he appointed a trust organization to care for his accumulations, he would have immediately gained the experienced advice of trained men—acting under his direction, yet controlling waste, conserving his estate and relieving him of the unpleasant duty of refusing the inordinate demands of his family.

If you are interested in obtaining information that will enable you to insure the safe, economical and efficient management of your financial affairs through a living or voluntary trust, come in and see the trust officer in one of these banks.

Mr. J. O. Jensen, President of Prudential Refining Corporation, has summarized his letter to the Bankers as follows:

BUSINESS AND PROPERTIES: Prudential Refining Corporation, originally organized under the laws of Delaware in 1914, as Prudential Oil Corporation, is engaged in refining petroleum and marketing various petroleum products. The plant, located on deepwater at Baltimore Harbor in the Curtis Bay District of the City of Baltimore, will be thoroughly modernized out of the proceeds of the present financing, and upon completion of improvements will constitute a most modern refinery with a daily capacity of 10,000 barrels of crude oil. In addition to 399 tank cars, the Corporation owns in fee approximately 150 acres of land and has storage facilities for approximately 1,750,000 barrels of crude oil and refined products. The Corporation has ample railroad facilities, being served by the Baltimore & Ohio, Western Maryland and Pennsylvania railroads. The plant also has adequate dockage equipped to unload crude oil direct from tankers into storage, and for the loading of refined products.SECURITY: These Bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct Closed First Mortgage on all the Corporation's fixed properties and equipment (in the United States) now owned. The land has been recently appraised by Messrs. Wm. Martien & Company at $1,500,000, and by the Messrs. Baldwin & Frick at $1,560,000.

It should be noted that after the completion of the proposed purchase by the City of Baltimore of property for an airport, there will be practically no large units of land available on deepwater at Baltimore Harbor.

Equipment and plants now owned, including proposed improvements, exclusive of land, have been recently appraised by T. T. Gray, Esq., Consulting Petroleum Technologist, of Newark, N. J., at $6,720,000.

Upon completion of the present financing, the balance sheet as prepared by W. E. Freeman, Certified Public Accountant of New York, shows net quick assets of $1,470,241.

The lower appraisal for land, the above appraisal of the plant, together with net quick assets, show net tangible assets equivalent to more than $4,800 for each $1,000 Bond.

EARNINGS: For the 12 years ended December 31, 1927, earnings of Prudential Oil Corporation before depreciation and taxes averaged $1,003,329 per annum. Earnings for this period were as follows:

1916	$ 730,296	1920	$4,362,036	1924	$ 250,470
1917	1,499,329	1921	1,496,396	1925	379,720
1918	569,582	1922	1,235,802	1926	74,916 loss
1919	1,374,173	1923	240,361	1927	23,300 loss

The unsatisfactory earnings from 1923 to 1925 inclusive and the losses in 1926 and 1927 were due to general conditions in the oil industry, with the resultant delay in authorizing expenditures for enlarged and more modern equipment. Based on the report of T. T. Gray, Esq., Consulting Petroleum Technologist, the management of Prudential Refining Corporation believes that upon complete modernization of the refinery, earnings will be materially increased.

The Stockholders have agreed to purchase 10,000 shares of Convertible Cumulative $7 Preferred Stock and 5,000 shares of Common Stock for a total of $950,000.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The present financing, which includes the above mentioned purchase of 10,000 shares of Convertible Cumulative $7 Preferred Stock and 5,000 shares of Common Stock, will provide funds for complete modernization of the refinery and other corporate purposes.SINKING FUND: There will be an annual Sinking Fund of 20% of the net earnings of the Corporation after depreciation and preferred dividends, with a minimum of $100,000. The minimum sinking fund will retire approximately 70% of the Bonds before maturity.THE DIRECTORS OF THE CORPORATION WILL BE:

NICHOLAS F. BRADY President, New York Edison Company.	J. O. JENSEN President, Prudential Refining Corporation.
C. PREVOST BOYCE Member of firm, Stein Bros. & Boyce.	GILES W. MEAD Vice-President and Director, Union Carbide & Carbon Corporation.

J. HORACE HARDING Chairman of Board, American Express Co.	JULIAN S. STEIN Member of firm, Stein Bros. & Boyce.

Application will be made in due course to list these Bonds and the Preferred and Common Stocks of the Corporation on the Baltimore Stock Exchange.

These Bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of counsel, Messrs. Platt, Field & Taylor of New York for the Corporation, and Messrs. Venable, Baetjer & Howard of Baltimore for the Bankers. It is expected that delivery will be made in the form of either permanent or temporary Bonds on or about June 15, 1928.

BEAUTY AND YOU

BY VIOLA PARIS

BEAUTY AND THE BATH

MOST of us will agree, I think, that the woman who would not make the most of what beauty nature gave her, would not think of depriving herself of her daily bath.

There is a very great deal more to the bath than merely cleansing the skin. The daily bath, intelligently employed, will serve as few other things will, to make life brighter. A bath may be used as a stimulant or sedative. A tepid bath in a warm room will never fail to soothe, relax nerves and invite the sort of sleep that the tired woman needs if she is to retain her good looks.

A daily hot and cold shower, the hot water being used first and followed immediately by the cold shower, is a splendid morning stimulant for those whose constitutions will stand it. It will quicken sluggish circulations and can not fail to impress sallow skins.

Many women, blessed with a robust constitution, make a habit of a warm or hot scrub at night and a cold plunge in the morning. No delicate woman should venture so far.

A quick morning scrub on arising and a warm evening tub make up a good bathing program for the average business woman or the woman busy all day with her household duties. The best morning scrub is one that employs a bath brush, tepid water and no soap. Stand on a good thick mat and scrub quickly and briskly the whole body. Dry vigorously with a rough towel until the skin tingles. A few deep-breathing and bending exercises, and you are ready for the day's work. I advise a glass or two of warm or hot water after the bath.

The warm bath in the evening may be either sponge, shower or tub. Most women prefer a pure, mild soap and a bath brush. A thorough rinsing of the body in clear warm water should follow the scrub.

If your skin has a tendency to be dry and you fear that the twice-a-day bathing will tend to make it dryer, do not give up the bathing. Provide yourself with soap rich in fat, manufactured especially for skins of this type. If this does not suffice, treat your body once a week to an oil rub.

If you would add the final touch to the luxury of the evening bath, after a thorough drying, sponge the body down with a lotion, such as the following. One pint of cologne and a quarter of an ounce of violet ammonia, a half-ounce of oil of pine.

And have plenty of fresh, outside air in your bedroom.

Mr. Work's Pointer On Auction Bridge

CONTINUING the subject of initial suit bids, there are one or two general points that it is important should be clearly understood. In the first place, there is no difference between the suits when an initial bid of one is being considered. An initial one-bid would be sound in one suit would be sound with the same cards in any other suit. It would not be true, for example, to say "This is a sound Heart bid, but if the Hearts and Diamonds were transposed it would be an unsound Diamond bid." The cards which justify a one-bid in Spades would justify a one-bid in Hearts or Clubs, and similar comment would apply to a one-bid of Clubs, Hearts or Diamonds as compared with any other suit. The beginner should fix this principle firmly in his mind because there is a more or less prevalent idea that Minor suit-bids of one may be made with less length than Major suit-bids of one; that they are No Trump invitations and that therefore the suit with which they are made need not contain more than three cards. This dangerous practice is not now conventional with expert players, although a few years ago it had some following. The next general point to consider is that there are many who think a score toward game justifies a declaration with less than conventional strength. This is most unsound. The main purpose of an initial one-bid is to give the partner information by showing as fully as possible the character of the bidder's holding. If a player holding A-Q-x-x-x in Spades and no side strength, should feel that a Spade bid was justified because he had a score of 12 and was 2 tricks nearer game than he would be with a love score, the partner could not tell whether it was a bid made merely because of the score, or a bid that would have been justified without a score. The question of whether the side of the bidder has a score toward game should not affect an initial declaration of one. If it is proper to make a one-bid at a love score, it is equally proper to make the same bid with the same cards if the bidder's side were 10 or 20 toward game. Conversely, having a score does not make a bid sound which would be unsound at a love score.

Choosing a Career.

DEAR BOY—You are wondering about your choice of a college. It goes without saying that this is a question which should require careful deliberation and consideration before you make a decision. You are going to spend four valuable years of your life. What should these considerations be?

What is your principal reason for going to college? We hope it is to learn. And by learning we mean more than acquiring the facts of knowledge. We mean that you should also learn to think. Consequently you should pick a college where you will have a good chance to memorize the knowledge that is handed out to you, but where you will be taught to make your brain work for you. The world's greatest rewards go to the thinker. There is quite a difference in the scholastic rating of different colleges. Find out which colleges are considered best in the field of work you choose. If you have three or four choices in mind, talk them over with your school principal and your teachers and see which they think stands highest scholastically. Don't take one man's word, get several opinions.

Maybe you are interested in some particular subject like chemistry, biology, English or economics. They find out from your teachers, your minister or some one who is really informed which institution has the best course in that particular subject, and learn for yourself from the college catalogues which offers the most attractive courses in it. If you want a technical course, naturally you will select either a technical school or a university with a good scientific department. But if you really think you'd like a technical course and aren't quite sure, I would suggest a place where you can take some general course for the first year or two and see what you like. It is easy enough to specialize the last two years when you find out what you really want.

Don't pick out a college just because it had a successful football season. It may lose every game next season. And don't pick a place because you hear they "throw swell parties." Social life is much the same at every college, but if you are going to college, you will have your good times wherever you go. Possibly you are thinking of a college only because one or two or even more of your friends are going there. You wouldn't let this fact enter into the decision too heavily. Very often intelligent

Conduct and Common Sense

BY ANNE SINGLETON

TO "WE TWO" WITH CONGRATULATIONS.

WE are two young working people with limited finances. We are planning to marry in June, in the evening, at the home of a minister about 50 miles away. We will go in our car. How does one engage the minister? By personal call, or by letter? Would a tan suit and tan oxford be appropriate for the man? Where does he put his hat? Would a printed silk dress, tan purse and other accessories to match be correct for the girl? Would a close-fitting hat or a large "do" be better? Would she remove a light spring coat and the hat?

Where does the groom have the ring? Does he kiss the bride while in the room afterward? We are not being married secretly, but are not sending announcements to friends or relations. We would, after our return from a short trip, like to have a few friends and relations at our house for the evening. Would ce cream and cake be appropriate for refreshments? What sort of note or invitation could we send them?

I should call on the clergyman to make my arrangements. You could write, but I think you would feel more comfortable if you had seen him and the place where you would be married. You have thought out excellent costumes for both bride and groom. A small hat, since you are colorizing, would seem best for her. She may remove her coat and "peep on her hat." The groom can leave his hat in the hall. He carries the ring in his pocket till the time comes to put it on. There is no rule about kissing the bride. I like every girl have her parents at the wedding and be given away by her father, rather than have young witnesses. Here, I can't advise. You needn't send announcements. The entertainment you suggest is right as you have outlined it. Send a simple note of invitation or telephone your guests, if you prefer.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

HAS ANYBODY HERE HAD SEDGE POOL ICH?

HAS anybody here ever had the Sedge pool ich? If so, Dr. W. A. Evans would like to hear from you. He is certain he can tell such people how they may escape it hereafter.

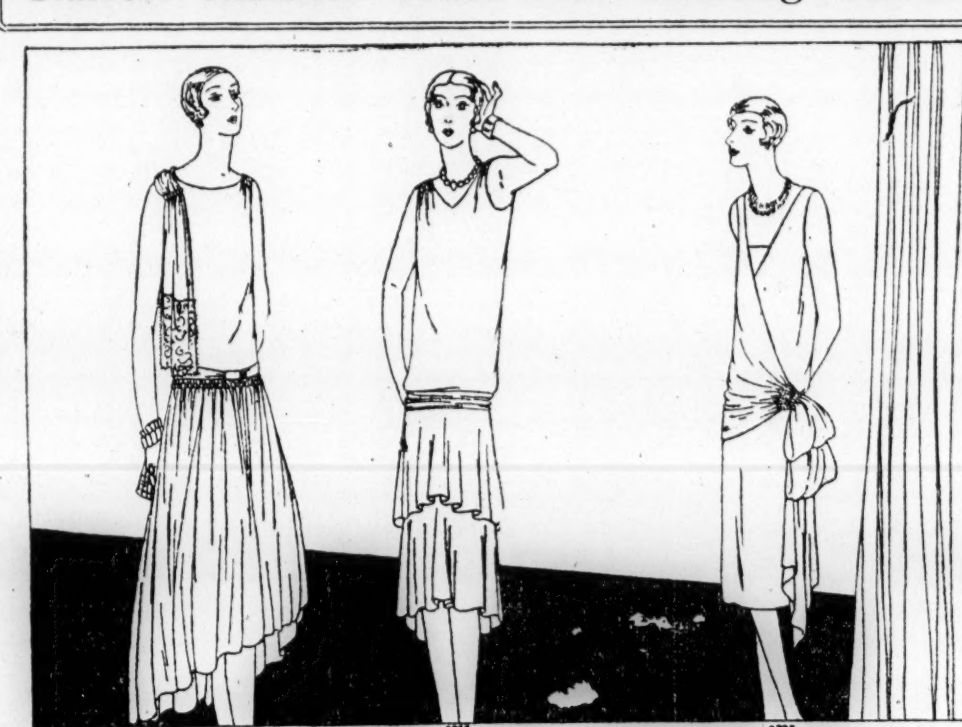

Maybe we had better tell what Sedge pool ich is. Somebody may be calling this rose by another name. Over at the University of Michigan the students in biology make use of Douglas lake. One of the bays or pools belonging to this lake closely or otherwise is known as Sedge Pool. The students are accustomed to seining or dredging this lake and its pools to get low forms of animal life for study. For years they have known that a form of eruption, known locally as Sedge pool ich, was likely to follow wading in these pools. The ich comes as small "bites" that itch terribly. These are red and somewhat firm, later becoming blisters and finally pustules in some cases. They itch for a "fore ye well," and the urge to scratch is strong. If the little papules were only slightly more in clumps and oozed a little more, it would look like poison ivy. The itching is even worse than that of poison ivy.

As a rule, the patches are around the ankles, though if the victim waded in a foot or two deep it might extend to the knees or thighs. After about a week of itching and burning the darn thing goes.

Now, who has had it, and where, and when, and under what name? Last summer Prof. Cort was out there studying a small parasite which lives in snails and which is at least a cousin of a parasite which gets into the human liver and is called a liver fluke, and of another which gets into the human blood and is called a blood fluke. These parasites of humans are responsible for some very important diseases in Egypt and other far away lands.

He had been supplied with a bucketful of water from this pool. In it were a lot of snails. He found a great number of these small worm parasites escaping from the snails in the water. In taking the snails out of the water for examination he put his left hand and forearm into the water many times. In a few days he had a fine crop of Sedge pool ich on that left hand, wrist, and forearm. He found that the little worms had attached themselves to hair follicles and had bored down, producing papules and later blisters. There was no eruption on the palm of the hand nor any other nonhairy part of the arm.

Claribel Sketches Three New Evening Gowns

DEAR EVE—I have sketched, this week, three evening gowns that illustrate three distinct evening silhouettes. The frock on the extreme left is of pale peach chiffon. It has a full skirt that is shirred onto a plain blouse. The skirt is longer in back than in front and longer on the right side than on the left. A scarf of the same material as the dress is shirred onto the left shoulder, draped around the back, and held in place with a brooch at the right shoulder. The scarf is edged with a wide band of peach-colored lace, a bit darker than the dress. The center frock is also of chiffon, but the silhouette is quite different from the one on the left. The blouse is plain, and the only trimming is a little shirring on each shoulder. The skirt is longer in back than in front and is longer in the uneven hem-line, so that it is formed by two full tiers. They are longer in back than in front and are held in place with a brooch at the right shoulder. The third dress is of satin in a beautiful shade of butter-cup yellow. It is a two-piece model. The blouse has a long, flowing line and it is shirred to form a great double bow with the end falling below the hem-line of the skirt. You will notice that, although the three dresses are entirely different, they each have an uneven hem, a higher waist-line, and a longer skirt. So simple are these three outstanding features of the evening mode.

ducted under the Jewish Welfare Board, in cooperation with Costello Post of the American Legion, in the memorial circle of the Washington Hebrew Congregation.

Graves in the Olave Shalom, Adas Israel, Washington Hebrew Congregation, District of Columbia and Talmud Torah Cemeteries were decorated, and Rabbi T. Loeb Abram Simon, William P. Rosenblum, L. J. Schweifed and Maj. L. E. Aikens, assistant engineer of the city, participated in the brief ceremonies. Papers were read by the Costello Post bugle corps.

Graves of former members of the Irish-American Union, buried in Mount Olivet Cemetery, were decorated yesterday by members of the union. As in years, the day exercises were concluded with exercises over the grave of Thomas Devin Reilly, in whose memory the union has erected a monument.

Later in the day exercises were held at the cemetery under the auspices of Lincoln Camp, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, "Costello Post, American Legion; John Barry Garrison of the Army and Navy Union and Ellen Spencer Mussey Tent, Daughters of the American Revolution. Memorial addresses were made by Representative Joseph B. Glynne, of Connecticut; commander Thomas Macdonald, of the Washington Post; and Ambrose Grindley delivered Lincoln's Gettysburg address. There were independent bands of the Washington Boys Independent Band, and the Washington Post band, which were accompanied by the Costello Post Bugle Corps.

Gold Star Mothers' Program.

Poppies and flags were placed early yesterday beside memorial markers along Sixteenth street. Gold star mothers, assisted by Victory Post and George R. Killen Post of the American Legion.

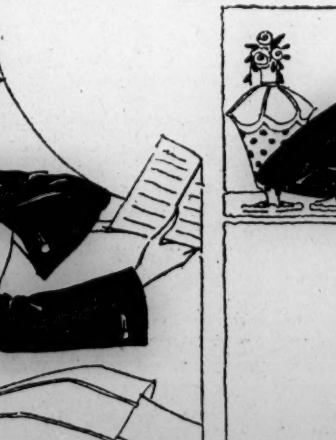

There were addresses by the Rev. W. H. Coston and Ferdinand D. Lee at memorial services held at Harmony

MODISH MITZI

"Dear Mitzi," the letter reads, "I'm going to be married right away because Dick's firm is sending him away. I'm depending on you for so much help. You simply have to be one of my bridesmaids . . . and then please, please, help me with my trousseau shopping." Which leaves with Mitzi something to think about.

Mitzi Prepares for a Wedding.

She'll have to change her plans, and also her costume, for this shopping campaign. At this moment she wears over a sleeveless tennis dress one of the new short jackets. Incidentally, the jacket model is popular in velvet, flannel and blazer stripes. First, she'll call up the Goofy and ask him to drive her to the shops.

Mitzi Prepares for a Wedding.

Next, Mitzi has to see Dad about something important. He won't mind advancing a check for this emergency. Poor Dad. He might have known it. There's always a wedding in June. Well, he won't refuse his daughter, not when she wears a new felt and straw hat and a cape coat!

Mitzi Prepares for a Wedding.

Mitzi didn't actually get to the shops to buy things for the bride-to-be. She writes her, however, that she is really devoting her days and nights to the wedding plans. After all, having been promised a car and chauffeur and a check, the rest will be simple. So simple that she feels she can't wait wearing her negligee with the shoulder drape.

THE WILD FLOWERS.

Men cover the earth with brick and stone. But the violets steal away To the shady places but little known. To be found by some one who walks alone In the calm of a summer day. And the ferns move out to some distant spot Where the earth is cool and sweet With trees and song birds they cast their lot. Let men build cities, they like them not. Nor the ceaseless tramp of feet. The wild flowers sneer at man's buildings great And flee from the city's hum. Away from turmoil and pride and hate They live and bud and blossom, and wait For the few friends who may come. Latzo Battles Loughran For Title

Champion Is Heavy Favorite for Bout on Wednesday.

Fight Marks Start of Busy Season for Philly Boxer.

NEW YORK, May 27 (A.P.)—Another champion puts his town in jeopardy for the edification and enjoyment of New York's boxing fans this week.

Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, begins a busy campaign on Wednesday night when he risks his light-heavyweight title in a fifteen-round battle with Pete Latzo, the Scranton coal miner, who once held the welterweight championship. The bout will be staged at Ebbets Field, home of the Brooklyn Dodgers, with Humbert Fugazy, chief rival of Tex Rickard, as the promoter.

Loughran is an overwhelming favorite, the experts figuring that the man who beat Mike McGuire, Jimmy Slattery and Leo Lonski during the winter season needs no further help. The coal miner has been fighting in the light-heavyweight ranks for several months.

The bout will mark the first of a series of light-heavyweight title holders scheduled for this summer. After the Latzo match he will fight Slattery for Rickard on June 14 and later will meet Lonski for Fugazy.

The semifinal to the Latzo-Loughran battle will witness the return to American competition of Ted (Kid) Lewis, England, one-time welterweight champion of the world. Lewis is matched for eight rounds against K. O. Phil Kaplan, New York middleweight, who stopped Pinky Mitchell, of Milwaukee, in his last fight.

On Thursday night Rickard will stage a lightweight show at Madison Square Garden. Louis (Kid) Kaplan, former featherweight champion, will meet Manuel Quintero, Florida Spaniard, in the final. King Tut, of Los Angeles, is booked to box Lope Tenorio, Filipino, in the semifinal.

Reds Blank Cardinals; Lucas Hurt in Drill

St. Louis, May 27 (A.P.)—The St. Louis Cardinals suffered their second shutout of the season here today at the hands of the Cincinnati Reds, 2 to 0. Bunched hits in the seventh and eighth brought the third victory of the four-game series to the league leaders.

Red Lucas, Cincinnati hurler, sustained a fracture of a small bone in his wrist in batting practice when he attempted to field a grounder from the bat of "Bubbles" Hargrave.

SANDE HAS WON $2,560,320 IN PURSES IN 10 YEARS

Rider Greatest In U. S. Turf History

Has Been in Money on 63 Per Cent of His 3,500 Mounts.

3rd Kentucky Derby Victory Is Now His Ambition.

By CHARLES A. WATSON.

EARL SANDE, for ten years the idol of the American race track, has established a record never equaled by any other rider in the history of the sport. Starting at New Orleans in 1918, where he was practically unknown, a small undersized, freckled-faced kid, and winding up at Pimlico on November 4, when he was banished from Maryland by order of the Maryland Racing Commission for his four-riding while astride Peter Wreck in the Futurity, Sande's record stands as one of the greatest in the history of the sport.

Sande has won important stakes in America with the exception of the Cottingham Handicap, and during his ten years in the saddle has won the grand sum of $2,560,320 in purse money for his various employers.

More remarkable than the stupendous amount of money he has won, Sande's percentage of winning mounts stands ahead of any other rider on the American turf. Sande's record riding at the Metropolitan race track has been of the sensational order and every day sees his record mount to a higher average.

During his ten years in the saddle Sande has ridden almost 3,500 races and has been on the winning horse in 63 per cent of these contests. He has finished second in 17 per cent of his races, and in 23 per cent he has been in the money on an average of 63 per cent in all the races he has ridden.

Sande booted home his first winner on a big-time track at the Fair Grounds, New Orleans, on January 21, 1918, when he won on Prince S. The greatest achievement of his career came on September 17, 1919, at Havre de Grace race track, where he performed one of the most phenomenal feats in racing history by winning six consecutive races in one day after failing to win the first race.

Records of his mounts on that day show the following:

First race—Hunnymen. Price, 6 to 1.
Second race—El Mahdi. Price, 2.85 to 1.
Third race—Wodan. Price, 3.35 to 1.
Fourth race—African Arrow. Price, 2.10 to 1.
Fifth race—Milkmaid. Price, .50 to 1.
Sixth race—Sunny Hill. Price, 1.60 to 1.
Seventh race—Bathilde. Price, 1.90 to 1.

No other jockey's record even approaches the deeds of Sande, either in this country or in Europe, except that of Fred Archer, the famous English rider of 30 years ago. For nearly ten years Archer won over 30 per cent of his races. Sande's record stands as the victor five times in the English Derby, but his percentage of winning mounts over a long period of years does not compare with the record of Sande.

Sande's record includes two trips to the winning post in the Kentucky Derby. His sole ambition is to win three and equal the record established by Isaac Murphy, the late great colored jockey, the only rider to claim the honor of winning the famous classic three times.

Sande has won the Belmont Futurity the suburban and the Brooklyn Handicaps, the Belmont Stakes and traveled west last year to ride "Horse Play" in the $25,000 Lincoln Handicap in Chicago.

Sande has fought "Kid Weight" the enemy of all jockeys and has been able to hold a decision over the nemesis for some time. A great money winner, Sande has been able to become financially interested in New York real estate.

He is considered one of the wealthiest jockeys on the turf.

Sande has suffered only one serious injury. While riding James Butler's Spurt at Saratoga August 9, 1924, he attempted to protect a younger and less experienced rider from injury or death and the perfect Earl went down in a jump to be trampled and mangled by the flying hoofs of the horses running behind his mount. He was laid up for months as it was thought he would never see the pegasus again but in due time he came back, strong and vigorous as ever.

So American jockeys envy the great Sande, for his record is outstanding among the deeds of truly great riders.
